PAUL IN ATHENS AND CORINTH.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:16-18:11.
GOLDEN TEXT—For I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Tells of Jesus in Two Great Cities.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Tells of Jesus in Two Great Cities.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul At a Worker.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul, Preacher and Teacher.

I. Paul Disputing with the Athenians (vv. 16-21).

1. The occasion (v. 16).

While waiting for Timothy and Silas, Paul saw the city of Athens wholly given to idolatry. This stirred his spirit. It is the consciousness of the world's lost condition that impels discipline and the witness of Christ's saving power.

2. The place (vv. 17-21).

(1) In the synagogue (v. 17).

True to his custom Paul went into the Jewish synagogue and entered in to earnest argument with the Jews and the devout persons there.

(2) In the market place (vv. 17-21).

From the Jews he turned to such as were found in the market place. Here he came into touch with the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers. The former were atheistic materialists, denying the doctrine of creation and giving themselves up to sensual indulgence, rejecting the idea of a future judgment. The latter were pantheists. When they heard the preaching of Paul they invited him to the Areopagus to speak to them of this new doctrine.

II. Paul's Address on Mars' Hill (vv. 22-34).

1. The introduction (vv. 22-23).

He introduces his discourse in a courteous and conciliatory manner, saying that as he was viewing their city he beheld an altar with an inscription "to the unknown God." This was his point of contact.

2. The body of his discourse (vv. 24-31).

(1) A declaration concerning God (vv. 24, 25).

a. The material universe was created by Him (v. 24).

b. His spirituality and immensity (v. 24). Being essentially spiritual He demands heart worship, and being transcendent He is not confined to earthly temples.

c. His active providence (v. 25). He gives being, bestows native gifts, and as Sovereign directs all things.

(2) A declaration concerning man (vv. 26-31).

a. He is the offspring of God (v. 29).

Since men are His offspring and bear His likeness, it is utter folly to make images to Him.

b. Nations have their place b God's purpose (v. 26).

c. Men should seek God (v. 27).

d. The present obligation to repent (vv. 30, 31).

3. The results of Paul's address (vv. 32, 34).

(1) Some mocked (v. 32).

(2) Some procrastinated (v. 32).

(3) Some believed (v. 34).

III. Paul in Corinth (Acts 18:1-11)

Paul came to Corinth a stranger His method of gaining a foothold is worthy of note. His first task was to find a home (v. 2), his second was to earn his daily bread (v. 3).

1. Preaching in the synagogue at Corinth (vv. 4-8).

(1) Time of (v. 4).

Every Sabbath day.

(2) Encouraged by the coming of Silas and Timothy (v. 5).

(3) Opposition t. Paul (v. 6).

As he increased his activity, opposition also increased.

(4) The purpose to turn to the Gentiles (v. 6).

Because of their blasphemy and opposition he ceased work among the Jews.

(5) He did not go far away (v. 7).

He remained sufficiently near so that those whose hearts God had touched could easily find him.

(6) His success (v. 8).

Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted and Paul departed from his usual custom and baptized him (1 Cor. 1:14). Many others also believed.

3. Paul's vision (vv. 9-11).

His experiences since coming to Europe were very trying, therefore he needed encouragement. It is just like the Lord to come when His servant has the greatest need. Note the Lord's words:

(1) "Be not afraid."
(2) "Speak and hold not thy peace."
(3) "I am with thee."
(4) "No man shall set on thee to hurt thee."
(5) "I have much people in this city."

Leaves Its Benediction

Every deed of kindness or unselfishness that we perform with love in our hearts for Christ, though it bless no other soul in all the wide world, leaves its benediction on ourselves.—J. R. Miller.

DIG THREE MONTHS FOR POT OF GOLD

Aged Woman's Dream of Riches Starts Race.

Honolulu.—An aged woman's dream of buried treasure kept four men busy three months digging a lot 20 feet broad and 50 feet deep in a back yard in one of Honolulu's residential districts.

As they dug ancient Hawaiian charms were brought into use to protect them from evil spirits.

Mrs. Pele Keukunalium, ninety-nine years old, was the dreamer. In her vision, it was explained, she saw the Hawaiian goddess of fire and the volcano, Pele, pointing out a spot in the yard where there was buried $25,000 in fine five-cornered gold pieces of the old Hawaiian monarchy. The money was supposed to be contained in the bow of a canoe.

The excavation work went on for weeks before it came to official attention, when two police cycle officers scouting the region for stolen automobiles noted the unusual activity.

At the end of three months no treasure had been found, but the excavation continued. The searchers had, however, uncovered a peculiar stone, differing in composition from the others in the shaft, and this has been greeted by Hawaiians as a "sacred stone."

A side light of the treasure hunt was the arrest of Kaulawai and John Muenne Nian, one of the diggers, on charges of "kahunalism" or witchcraft. The charges were dismissed when it was found that Kaulawai had prayed only to a luck goddess—Pele and two others—that the treasure sought might be found. The court held that invocation of good omens from spirits was not criminal.

Metal Mining Staging Comeback.

Denver, Colo.—The metal mining industry in Colorado slowly is staging a comeback.

From 1859 to the beginning of the Twentieth century, the state literally lived gold, silver and lead. Gregory started the "goldmadness" that caused Central City and Black Hawk to spring into being. He watched them grow to be leading, hell-roarin' mining camps.

Then came the slump. Today, however, mining camps are "looking up." Nevadaville, a famous "ghost town," is coming to life again. Two mines are reported working in that community after years of idleness.

Considerable activity is reported in Cripple Creek, one of the most famous of the old-time camps. From the time Bob Womack, a cowboy, found free gold in the Cripple creek area in 1881, millions of dollars in gold were taken from the hills.

Leadville, boom town of the Rockies, is engaged actively in a new attempt to regain its former position in the mining world. Aspen, center of the silver district, is active, experts say.

Prosperity is returning to Idaho Springs with its famed Argo tunnel, which pierces the heart of the rich gold-bearing district for more than seven miles.

LOST

Time from Work

Mr. Albert Garland, of Somerset, Ky., reports:

"I was off work in the mines, but lost quite a bit of time on account of sick spells I had. I would get to having a bad taste in my mouth, and a very dull, tired feeling and ache.

"My medicine told me to try Black-Draught, which I did, and after a few doses I felt much better. Now I take it as soon as I feel the least bad, and I don't get down. I certainly can say that it has done much for me, and then any other medicine I have ever taken.

"I never get without Black-Draught. If I go on a visit, I take a package along in my suitcase. My health is better now than it has been in years."

Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality. Price 25c. Try it.

Indians Play Bagpipes

A native bagpipe band was recently found in India by a traveling Englishman. The band played at noon each day and when the visitor rendered "The Road to the Isles," a Scotch lassie and one of the natives repented the line reading it from the music.

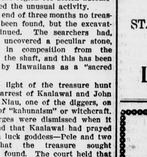
PAPEC Ask Him

"The Cutter That Does Not Clog"

"I AM well pleased with the N-13 Papec purchased this year," wrote H. B. Austin, Col. S, 1925. "It has never clogged the pipe once and runs so light. It will cut and elevate twice as much as any cutter that I ever saw. The feed roll is a great thing, no stopping of bundles on the feed table."



Light draft, low operating cost and long life make the Papec the most economical cutter. There's a size to fit your power plant, whether you use a 2 h. p. gasoline engine or a heavy tractor. If you have a silo, a Papec will earn you big returns. Let us show you how.

Miss Clement Honored

In honor of her charming house guest, Miss Ruth Clement, of Appomattox, Va., Mrs. George Halstead presided as hostess for three tables of bridge at her home on Hale avenue Friday evening. The setting was made most attractive by early fall flowers, the dimmed lights and the party dresses of the young ladies present. After several intensely interesting progressions the hostess presented the honoree, Miss Clement, with a lovely guest prize and the high score prizes to Miss Margie Garrett for the ladies and Godfrey Elliott for the men. The consolation prize was cut by Mr. Rutland. Following the dainty ice course served by the hostess, the party motored to Lake Shawnee and enjoyed several hours of dancing.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Halstead were: Misses Margie Garrett, Thelma Bowlin, Virginia Karnes, Jaunita Leech, Nancy Sasser and Ruth Clement; Messrs. Godfrey Elliott, George Shaus, Harvey Rice, Phillip Sasser, Mike Harrington and Rutland. — Princeton, W. Va., OBSERVER.

Robbers Caught

Last winter hold-ups and robberies of many kinds were enacted in and around Pamplin. The activities of the gang ended with the hold-up of H. M. Marshall in this county early this month.

Alfred Hopkins and Victor Madison were captured last week at their homes near Elam in Prince Edward county by Sheriff Clark. He was aided by officers of the county and Mayor Rice of Pamplin.

The negroes have been in jail here until Sunday, when they were turned over to Sheriff Clark for safe keeping and Prince Edward court on the charge of robbing Crute and Turnes at Five Fork. They will then be tried here at October term for robbing Robt. Beal, N. C. Crute and H. M. Marshall.

The negroes have confessed to the robberies and there are several other hold-ups that the authorities think they are guilty of. They claim to be 16 and 19 years of age.

These are probably the boldest and most dangerous negroes ever grown in this section and the people in this neighborhood would never have suspected them, as they rarely ever left their homes and had never been out of the county as far as known A red car furnished the clue and Mayor Rice located the owners and the car. No recovery of any of the goods or money has been made.

Robt. S. Odor

This splendid man died at his home near Spout Spring, Monday in the 66th year of age. Deceased had been in bad health for the past six years, and about four years ago after 36 years of railroad service he returned to his farm in this county. Deceased was never married; he is survived by three brothers—W. W. and C. R. Odor of Lynchburg, and T. W. Odor of this county. His remains were interred at Liberty Baptist church Tuesday morning, conducted by his pastor Rev. W. M. Thompson.

Card of Thanks

To our kind and thoughtful friends we wish to express our gratitude for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our daughter, Mrs. William A. Carr, Jr. We also want to thank them for the beautiful floral designs that were sent.

SHARES GOLD HILL WITH HONEST MAN

Prospector Kept Find Secret for 24 Years.

Summitville, Colo.—For 24 years Jack Pickens kept secret the location of a "peak of gold" in the San Juan mountains until he could find a financial backer whom he would trust to help him open the treasure vault locked by nature.

Today Pickens and Judge Jesse C. Wiley, the honest man whom the prospector found after a search of a quarter of a century, are sharing equally the fortune Pickens discovered.

While prospecting over the hills about the Little Annie mine in 1904 Pickens stumbled on a protruding bowlder. He tapped the rock with his hammer. A piece broke off, revealing a layer of almost solid gold. Another blow dislodged more gold-lined slabs from the surface of that bowlder.

Beneath the surface of that bowlder, the prospector concluded, lay a peak of gold. Determining to keep the discovery a secret, Pickens also resolved to test the potential fortune. He obtained a job with a small force of miners at the Little Annie and then began his quiet hunt for an honest man with enough money to exploit the "strike."

Several times the owners of the Little Angie mine started tunnels toward the golden peak, and Pickens held his breath. He was greatly relieved as each of these projects was abandoned, one within eighty feet of his hidden treasure.

Finally the prospector met the man whom he could trust. He and Judge Wiley formed a partnership, obtained long-time leases on 40 mining claims. Including the golden peak, and within six weeks realized $114,000 from the ore taken off only that part of the bowlder showing above the grass.

Since then half a million dollars has been hauled away and profitably worth many times that amount still is in sight.

Pickens has a wife and thirteen children with whom to share the fortune.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Ircnized Cascara has been discovered. This tablet carries water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dried fecal waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or harshly consuming the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Ircnized Cascara Tablet each day or night and see if you are not better. Get them at your Store.
